Tuesday 13th March 2012 in the School Hall

The Internet, with all its benefits, can still present dangers to kids which parents need to be aware of. Parents should be involved with their children’s Internet experience, and understand that Cyberbullying can affect them.

Stacey Hurst and Ese Hasan from NSW Police will be visiting our school to talk to you about this important issue. All parents are strongly encouraged to attend.

NSW Police will also speak about Facebook usage, traffic in school zones, youth behaviour in public places, and will be available to answer your questions.

A light morning tea will be served.
